Headings and Lists

This page tests the detection of headings and lists from the geometry of untagged text: font size, weight and spacing set headings apart, and markers start list items.

1 Bulleted items

A bulleted list follows, three levels deep, with a hanging indent for the line that wraps.

1.1 Three levels

- The first item has a body long enough to wrap onto a second line under its own text.
- The second item holds a nested list:
  a) a lettered item at the second level
  b) another lettered item, which nests deeper:
     i. a roman item at the third level
     ii. and a second roman item
  c) a third lettered item
- The third item closes the list.

2 Numbered items

Numbers, upper-case roman numerals and letters mark ordered lists.

1. Decimal numbers with a full stop
2. count the items of a list
3. one after the other.

Upper-case roman numerals with a wide gap after the marker:

I. the first numeral
II. the second numeral
III. the third numeral
IV. the fourth numeral

Upper-case letters in parentheses:

(A) a first lettered item
(B) a second lettered item
(C) a third lettered item

2.1 Closing

A last paragraph ends the page after the lists, back on the left margin of the body text.
